UN Gender Thematic Results Group

Gender equality screening tool for the integration of a gender perspective in UN joint programmes

INTRODUCTION

General Assembly resolution 72/279 elevates the United Nations Sustainable Development Cooperation Framework (UNSDCF) as “the most important instrument for planning and implementation of the UN development activities at country level in support of the implementation of the 2030 Agenda for Sustainable Development (2030 Agenda).” The UNSDCF guides the entire programme cycle, including planning, implementation, monitoring, reporting and evaluation of collective UN support for achieving the 2030 Agenda.

The UNSDCF is operationalized by joint workplans. In preparing and reviewing joint workplans, UNSDCF results groups may identify the need for increased joint delivery through one or more joint programmes (JPs). A joint programme is a set of activities contained in a joint workplan and funding framework, involving two or more UN entities contributing to the same UNSDCF outputs. Pooled funding or other funding mechanisms can be used for joint programmes. Other stakeholders can be engaged as implementing partners. JPs identify and build on complementarities between participating UN agencies and their partners to tackle complex development challenges and help achieve greater coherence in support of national priorities.

Gender equality is among the five key cross-cutting issues that a Joint Programme should address – together with human rights, environmental issues, capacity of institutions and partners, and capacity development strategies¹.

The UNCT-SWAP Gender Equality Scorecard exercise conducted in 2019 revealed that the UNCT “meets the minimum requirements” in relation to JPs’ contribution to reducing gender inequalities (indicator 2.1). In order to promote continued improvements in UNCT accountability on gender mainstreaming, the Albania’s Gender Thematic and Results Group (GTRG) decided to develop and roll out “a quality control system to ensure that all Joint Programmes (UNJPs) systematically and adequately mainstream gender equality considerations”.

OBJECTIVE

The present Gender Equality Screening Tool, developed by the UN GTRG under the leadership of UN Women, is a specific deliverable of the UNCT-SWAP Gender Scorecard Action Plan².

The tool aims to support the UNCT in Albania to meet its commitments to gender equality and women’s empowerment, ensuring that UN programming effectively enhances the rights of women and girls in Albania. The GTRG leads on the development of the Tool and supports its implementation with regular updates, analysis, and recommendations on its use to further improve the UNCT’s overall contribution to gender equality and women’s empowerment (GEWE).

THE GENDER EQUALITY SCREENING TOOL

What is the screening tool?

The screening tool is intended as a self-assessment tool to help enhance gender mainstreaming across the UN Joint Programmes. It is structured around five dimensions to identify the extent to which key GEWE considerations are addressed in the JP.

Points are allocated based on a Yes/No response model which mirrors the criteria set forth in the Gender Equality Marker (GEM)⁴:

- A total score between 2.51 and 3.00 points: Gender equality objectives are the primary intended result(s) of the JP. The JP would not have been undertaken without this gender equality objective (corresponding to GEM score 3).
- A score between 1.51 and 2.50: The JP mainstreams gender equality and makes a substantive contribution to GEWE (corresponding to GEM score 2).
- A score between 0.51 and 1.50: The JP provides limited consideration of gender equality/women’s empowerment (corresponding to GEM score 1)
- A score between 0 and 0.50: There is no consideration of gender equality issues and there are no results relating to gender equality or women’s empowerment /rights (Corresponding to GEM score 0).

³ Nota bene: UNSDG interagency advisory group is working on the UNJP guidance revision. The UNSDG core group will review UNJP policy recommendations from agencies. The supporting policy paper called for the application of gender equality, human rights and peace markers at activity level for UNJPs. With this in mind, the present Tool will be considered as an interim measure to be utilized by UNCT Albania until further guidance is issued by the UNSDG. In addition, the tool will be shared with UNSDG as an example that can be integrated in the development of the new UNSDG guidance.

⁴ Coding definition for Gender Equality marker, Guidance Note, United Nations Chief Executive Board for Coordination, December 2018.

An explanatory note on how to interpret your results, as well as recommendation resources for additional guidance, are included at the end of the document.

When to use this tool?

The Gender Screening Tool should be used by during the design phase of the JP, as well as during the peer review processes conducted at the agency and/or interagency levels during the design of the JPs. While, users are encouraged to familiarize themselves at the onset of the design phase with all aspects of the Screening Tool, the final rating and submission can be done at the end of the JP development process. The tool could be taken again if the JP undergoes significant changes in scope or in the results framework.

Who should use the tool?

The primary users of the JP Screening tool are the gender equality focal points in UN agencies part of the UNCT, and all UN personnel in charge of the design, implementation and monitoring of the JP:

1. The UN personnel in charge of developing, implementing, monitoring, and evaluating the JP is responsible for taking the tool into account when developing the Joint Programme, using it to reflect on the implications of the proposed intervention on gender equality and women's empowerment in Albania.
2. The gender focal point in each agency, jointly with the planning specialist or Head of Programme/Deputy Head of Office, promotes dissemination of the tool, encourages its use and application, and provides technical support to relevant personnel to apply the tool. She/he is also responsible for providing advice and reviewing the JP based on the score resulting from the application of the tool. The gender focal points are encouraged to share the results with the Gender Thematic and Results Group.
3. The UN Albania GTRG oversees the development of the tool, adapting it as needed and based on feedback from implementation and in line with UNSDG guidance.

How to use the tool?

During the design phase of the JP, the programme coordinator/project officer together with the agency Gender Focal Point checks the JP vis a vis the tool, providing a yes/no answer to each question. Once the tool is complete, the programme coordinator/officer and gender focal point can calculate the total score and overall assessment of the JP from a gender perspective.

Relevant resources are indicated at the end of the tool, to be used to potentially improve the score of the JP and ensure sufficient consideration of gender equality issues in the JP.

Resources to be consulted (list TBD depending on the nature of the JP and the areas of major gaps):

- If you obtained between 0.51 and 1.50, it means that the JP has limited consideration of gender equality and women’s empowerment, and that the JP will lead to limited results for women and girls.

Recommendations (to be provided by gender focal point within agency on how to improve score):

Resources to be consulted (list TBD depending on the nature of the JP and the areas of major gaps):

- If you obtained between 1.51 and 2.50 points, it means that the JP mainstreams GEWE. The JP makes a substantial contribution to women’s empowerment and gender equality.

Recommendations (to be provided by gender focal point within agency on how to improve score):

Resources to be consulted (list TBD depending on the nature of the JP and the areas of major gaps):

- If you obtained a score of 2.51 and above, gender equality and women’s empowerment are critical results of the JP, which is designed to make specific positive contribution to the lives of women and girls in Albania as a priority focus.

Gender Mainstreaming in Joint Programmes

Selected UNCT-SWAP Performance Indicators	Annual Reporting	Comprehensive Reporting 2019 (baseline)
2.1 Joint Programmes contribute to reducing gender inequalities	2021: Exceeds Minimum Requirements, Foreseen result for 2022: Exceeds minimum requirements	Meets Minimum Requirements, 2019

Please indicate the criteria met based on the scoring criteria above:

- An institutionalized JP Gender screening tool is in place and will be piloted at the earliest possible convenience
- GTRG ensures that gender work is mainstreamed and supported during UNDAF implementation, planning, monitoring and reporting
- Joint Work Plans include information on gender marker at the output level
- All nine JPs operating in 2022 are gender marked and four JPs have a unique focus on gender equality in 2022: EAWW Joint Programme; EU 4 Gender Equality; Earthquake response; Leave No One Behind. In addition, UN Women is implementing the GREAT project jointly with FAO as implementing partner.

Gender Mainstreaming in Joint Programmes

- ✓ In view of improving its score in UNCT SWAP indicator 2.1, UN Albania developed the Gender Equality Screening Tool for Joint Programmes.
- ✓ Prior to the availability of the tool, elements to ensure gender mainstreaming in UNCT programming existed. However, there was no formal mechanism for gender mainstreaming and quality assurance in Joint Programmes.

The screening tool formalizes existing quality assurance and gender mainstreaming practices, and enhances the overall accountability of the UN system to promote GEWE across its joint programmatic interventions.

The Gender Equality Screening Tool for Joint Programmes: Assessing the Integration of a Gender Equality Perspective in UNCT Joint Programmes

- ✓ The tool is structured around five dimensions to identify the extent to which key GEWE considerations are addressed in the JP:
 1. Joint Programme Analysis
 2. Joint Programme results
 3. Monitoring and evaluation
 4. Partnerships
 5. Management and implementation arrangements

- ✓ Points are allocated based on a Yes/No response model which mirrors the criteria set forth in the Gender Equality Marker (GEM)

The Gender Equality Screening Tool for Joint Programmes

When to use the tool?

- During the design phase of the JP & the peer review processes
- If the JP undergoes significant changes in scope or in the results framework

Who should use the tool?

- Gender equality focal points in UN agencies
- All UN personnel in charge of the design, implementation and monitoring of the JP
- The UN Albania GTRG

How to use the tool?

- The programme coordinator/project officer together with the agency Gender Focal Point checks the JP vis a vis the tool, providing a yes/no answer to each question
- Once the tool is complete, the programme coordinator/officer and gender focal point can calculate the total score and overall assessment of the JP from a gender perspective.

Development process for the Gender Equality Screening Tool for Joint Programmes

The Gender Equality Screening Tool for Joint Programmes

✓ Resources required for the development of the tool:

- Staff time

✓ Strategies to secure buy-in from different levels of the UNCT:

- Leverage the UN-SWAP scorecard scoring: P.I. 2.1 was amongst the lowest score for UN Albania during the last assessment.
- Highlight the need to ensure a formal mechanism for quality assurance of JPs in general and on gender specifically

Lessons learned

How is the tool working in practice & key challenges?

UNCT Albania has not yet started the development process for any new JPs- therefore, its practical use is still to be tested and lessons learned have not been collected yet

Any tip for success for other UNCTs beginning to develop a system for mainstreaming gender in JP?

- Leverage the UN SWAP scorecard exercise and its scores
- Harmonize the tool with the new UNDG JP guidance
- Role of RCO is critical to ensure the success of the exercise

Anything you would change about the tool?

- Ensure full alignment with UNDG JP guidance- which is still to be finalized

Thank you!!
